

The Newbery Award

Jody

6-3

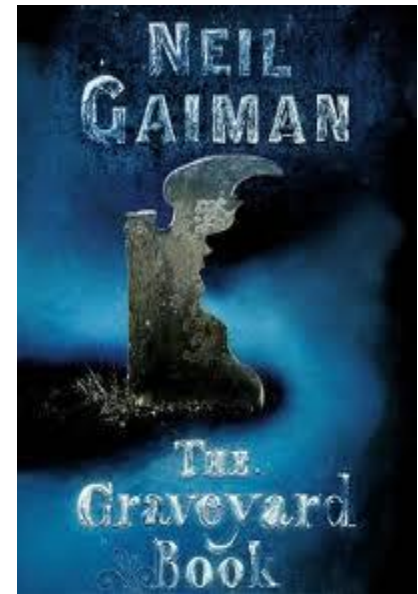

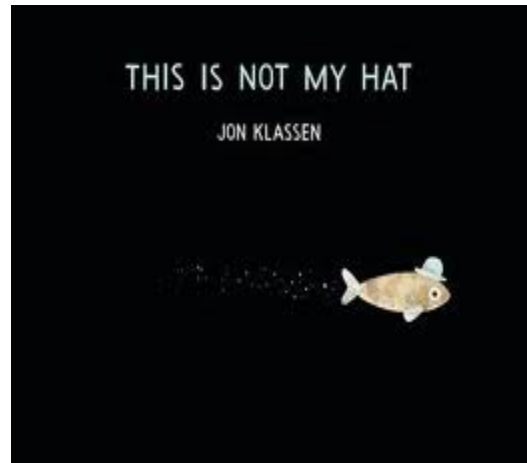

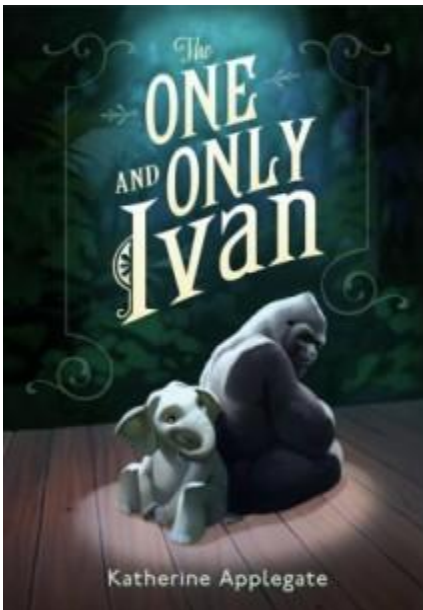

Why is the award named after John Newbery?

- This award is named after John Newberry because John Newbery was the first person to open the first publishing place and he sold books. The American Library association.

Why do books receive this award?

- Books receive this award if they get voted to win. Children get to vote which books they read which one is the best or the one they like the one with the most votes. Only one books wins every year.

Books that received the award

Work cited page.

- <http://www.ala.org/awardsgrants/john-newbery-medal-2>